All benefits at a glance

Experienced specialist translators

We offer translations in a variety of industry fields and specialist areas. A global network of specialist translators who, in addition to their language and style training, specialize in specific topics and specialist fields, allows us to provide high quality specialist translations.

Native speaker and target country principle

We only work with translators who live in the country into whose language they translate into. This way we always guarantee a high level of quality taking into account the necessary cultural, linguistic, specialist and political knowledge that we incorporate into the translations we are working with.

Quick processing - on-time delivery

Quick and easy placement of orders with our online system. With six different types of delivery variants, you can order your translation when you need it. We are your reliable partner, even for urgent jobs.

Quicker translations using CAT tools (computer aided translation)

For larger projects we are also able to process your texts with CAT tools. CAT tools store existing translated text passages, which eliminates the need for a complete re-translation. You benefit from shorter processing times and lower costs.

Authentication and legalization

We certify translations and take care of the notarization (apostille) and legalization.

... into more than 40 languages! Leginda - Your online portal for professional specialist translations

It is still good practice to speak the language of the customer. Adequate communication is an absolute "must" in order to maintain successful international business relationships. For the global marketing of your products and services you need your texts and documents translated into the respective target language of the target market.

No matter what type of translation you require, whether simple correspondence, documentation, certificates, contracts, company brochures, websites or even scientific dissertations or patents - our specialists translate all types of documents into more than 40 languages.

With our online system you can order your translations within a few minutes with only a few clicks of the mouse. To let you know from the start what the costs will be, you will immediately receive an online fixed price offer with various delivery options. Your documents are encrypted and transmitted to our encrypted server in Germany. In addition, we guarantee absolute confidentiality of your documents.

To calculate your offer please go to: www.leginda.de or give us a call.

We speak your language – in every way.*

We translate over 3 million words per year - in more than 40 languages and over 1,500 language combinations.

When we say we speak the language of our customers, then we mean it. Not just one, two or ten, but more than 40! Therefore, we can help you in all major language combinations and are able to support you with more exotic jobs - for example projects in Zulu or Malayalam projects.

No matter what type of translation you require, we are your competent partner.

Professional translators specializing in your sector

Professional translations must not contain any linguistic errors and must be technically correct. Furthermore, they require knowledge about regional, local, cultural, historical and social backgrounds as well as the required specialist knowledge.

We offer translations in a variety of industry fields and specialist areas. A global network of more than 3,000 specialist translators who, in addition to their language and style training, specialize in specific topics and specialist fields, allows us to provide high quality specialist translations.

We keep your texts at the high quality in which we received them! Here is a selection of our main areas of expertise:

Technology & Industry

We offer specialist translations incorporating specialist terminology applicable to technical and industrial sectors.

Marketing & PR

We support you in all your global brand and product communication with translations that focus on your promotional message.

Software & Internet

We are also the perfect partner and service provider for software applications, thanks to the expertise of our IT translators.

Economy & Trade

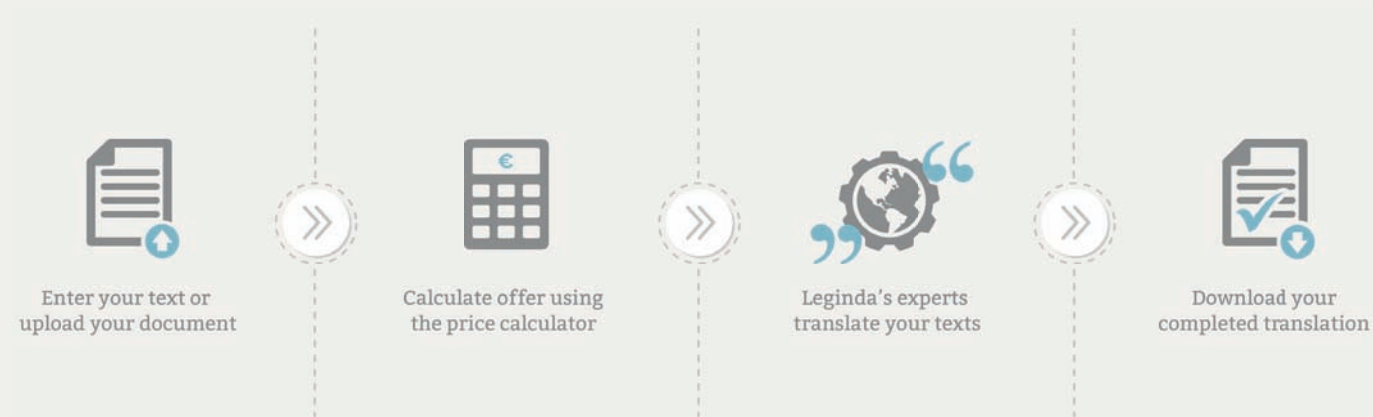

In which language do you require your business plan, financial report or other commercial documents? We are happy to help!

Law

We translate legal reports, all types of contracts, court decisions, indictments, solicitors' submissions, default summons and much more – in perfect foreign language incorporating the respective legal terminology.

Get your translation in a few easy steps

Of course you can also contact us by phone or email us. We will gladly assist you with a translation offer based on your individual requirements.

The Leginda order process

Easy processing with our online system and CAT tools

We want to keep things as simple and effective as possible for you. Using our online system, you can place your order in three simple steps and determine your delivery date. If you are happy with our quotation, accept the price and initiate your binding translation order.

Even quicker thanks to CAT tools

When translating technical documents or repeat updates, using CAT tools (Language Server & Computer Aided Translation Service) saves time and money. This way, more comprehensive documents can be translated quicker, at lower costs and in an even better quality.

Our pricing policy

The fixed price for the translation remains valid - guaranteed!

After entering the text to be translated you will immediately receive a fixed price offer. We do not renegotiate or have hidden costs! You can rely on that!

Volume discounts for large texts

Benefit even more from our pricing policy: The larger your text for translation, the lower the price per word. You receive volume discounts on large texts.
